MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Bannerman via Mr. Warfield

Six employees resigned in Calendar Year 1964 and eleven resigned in Calendar Year 1965 in lieu of facing separation action and under circumstances where an immediate Civil Service annuity based upon discontinued service was considered to be available. Employees who are in the Civil Service Retirement System can apply for this annuity if they are 50 years of age and have 20 years service or if they have 25 years service regardless of age, and in either case the annuity is reduced if the employee is under 60 years of age.

25X1 The Civil Service Commission has the right to go behind the employee's application and examine the merits of an individual case. When we have a complicated case, [redacted] has personally presented it and discussed it with Andy Ruddock, who is the Director, Bureau of Retirement and Insurance, Civil Service Commission.

In each case of resignation because the position is being abolished, the Director of Personnel ascertains that the position is in fact abolished. In discussing the 1964 and 1965 cases with [redacted] it is apparent that every case is determined to have been initiated by the Agency rather than the individual, although in some cases, [redacted] for example, the employee is not at all unhappy.
